JERRY JORIS LINDSAY WEEKEND: The debits and credits for the Weekend Festival are as follows:

TOTAL INCOME	$344.85
TOTAL EXPENSES	344.05
Leadership	$225.00
Food and kitchen supplies	76.07
Decorations, invitations and stamps, syllabus, etc.	42.98
TOTAL PROFIT	$.80

Little can be said for the monetary profit, and that small amount was due only to Rosemarie Dennehy's meticulous bookkeeping, but as usual those who came to dance with us assured us they had a wonderful time, and that is a profit worth all the effort expended.

TRI-CITY FESTIVAL, Nov. 30, 1963, at Cincinnati: To say that the first festival of this type attempted in our area was a success would be an understatement. Comments from all areas indicated that everyone was very pleased with the entire program, both the afternoon teaching session and the evening program for fun. I think the leaders from all groups did a tremendous job in their choice of material to be taught and in the actual teaching of the dances. It would be nice if some of you attending the festival would drop these leaders a note to express your personal thanks for their efforts.

CHRISTMAS PARTY - December 12, 1963: This date seems to be the best one for our group to join in the spirit of the season. Please make a special effort to come dance with your friends and their guests, who in turn would be happy to dance with your guests. To provide a few ready-made guests, Grace has suggested that the members of the Monday eve. folk dance class be invited. I am sure we all join her in extending this invitation.

REQUEST SESSION - December 19, 1963: This is your night to dance what you like best so rack your brain and let me know which dance you really have been wanting to do the next time someone said "Requests!" I will be in charge of the session and will be ready to accept your suggestions as soon as you get this Newsletter. However, my brain has a short memory so please use the request sheet that will be provided.

SKI CLUB - January 15, 1964: The demonstration at the ski club has been mentioned at various times and it is now time for a definite decision by all. Please tell Grace whether or not you plan to go so that the dances to be demonstrated can be programmed with a minimum of extra effort by all of us.

ART INSTITUTE CONCERT: The MVFD will not participate in the Winter Series at the Art Institute this year. Too few members were able to lend their time and efforts to this undertaking to assure a successful program.
