MVFD NEWSLETTER

All of us dance at the Michael Solomon Pavilion. It is one of the few places in the state of such a high caliber. What a few of you may not know is that the man is still around. Our group will be honored to praise him on a regular Thursday evening on November 1, 1984. If you feel that folk dancing has been an enjoyable part of your life, we are asking you to wholeheartedly support this venture by coming with an air of expectancy and by bringing a covered dish of your choice.

We will be having a smorgasbord dinner starting at 6:30 P.M. There will be no teaching that night, but there will be dancing. This will not be a regular dance program, but will be a special program. Past members of M.V.F.D. will be invited to come and celebrate with us. Also, some of Mike's friends will be invited.

As mentioned in the September newsletter, Mike will be eighty-two on October 20. Also, this year marks the twentieth anniversary of the dedication of the pavilion. Please plan to be with us in celebrating both of these events.

Jewel Steed and Ann Ballinger will be in charge of the food. There will be a sign-up sheet on the counter tonight and next Thursday for you to indicate what dish you plan to bring. You might contact Ann or Jewel for any suggestions. Meat and drinks will be furnished by the club. Chairing this event is a good friend of Mike's -- Grace Wolff.

We had a fairly good attendance at the summer picnic. Many thanks to Dick Clair for allowing us the use of St. Joseph's facilities. Bessie Lee Shropshire lost a silver fork at the picnic. If anyone knows where it is, please let someone know.

Ralph Guess seems to be doing well. It was nice seeing him and Teresa at the pavilion last Thursday.

Both John and I thank the Miami Valley Folk Dancers for their fantastic support of the Kitka Dance Ensemble. Thanks to the good attendance, there was no loss; there was a small profit. Those of you that could not make it missed a great concert.

Eltzroths have agreed to assist the Mills with our New Year's Eve dinner. That will give us something else to look forward to.
