

March 4, 1995

Dear Mihai:

This is to confirm the arrangements for the Thursday evening workshop on March 16, 1995. Folk dancing usually begins at 7:00. But we will start the teaching at 7:30. The workshop is scheduled from 7:30-10:30, with the total cost to the group being $175.

Enclosed is a copy of the flyer that we have been circulating. I asked for a Russian dance because we recently had a weekend Romanian workshop. However, I would certainly expect that the majority of the evening would be Romanian, which is, of course, your specialty.

The back of the flyer has directions to Solomon Pavilion. I presume you are coming from the east, so that the directions from Columbus would be most relevant. As stated, take I-70 to 675. Travel south on 675 to the Indian Ripple/Dorothy Lane Exit. Turn right on Dorothy Lane and drive for about 5 miles. You will eventually see a sign for Kettering Hospital and then a golf course on your right (marked by a wooden fence). At the end of the fence is Berkley. Turn right on Berkley and zigzag (see the enclosed map) to the red pavilion, which is on the parking lot for the golf course. We will be waiting!

Pat and Greg Solloway will provide you with accommodations for Thursday evening. Greg will be at the workshop, so you will be able to follow him home.

We are glad to have this opportunity to invite you to visit our group, and we are looking forward to the workshop.

Sincerely yours,

Joanne Dombrowski
