Roo Lester is one of this country's authorities on Scandinavian turning dances, with particular expertise in Norwegian and Swedish dances. She has gained a national reputation by making such dances accessible to beginners -- focusing on Scandinavian dance technique as well as execution. You will be amazed at what you can do after just one workshop with her; she carefully, analytically breaks down the steps and music in a way that enables you to master the dances quickly.

Roo has a Masters Degree in Dance with emphasis in Dance Ethnology from UCLA, and she will be dancing this summer in Sveg, Sweden at the Polskmärke Uppdansning for her bronze medal. Roo is a regular teacher at numerous dance camps and events across the country, including Scandia Camp Mendocino, Buffalo Gap Scandinavian Week, Mainewoods Folk Dance Camp, Folklore Village, Oglebay, and many others.
